FROM THE EVENT MANAGER

Welcome to the 25th Annual Carlisle Ford Nationals – the world's largest Ford family reunion! As you embark on your journey you will notice this year's show is packed with celebrities, activities, celebrations, displays and a huge all-Ford automotive flea market.

This year's Featured Vehicle Displays include 50 Years of the Mach 1, Boss and Eliminator along with 40 Years of the Fox Body and Fox platform. The Mach 1, Boss and Fox displays are so big we added tents! We are also celebrating 50 Years of the Maverick. See them on the NPD showfield on Rows NI and NJ. Be sure to walk through Building Y to see some killer builds and restorations in the Carlisle Ford Nationals Select Display. Inside Gate 3 is the Ford GT Gallery Tent where there is a never-seen-in-the-U.S. GT prototype! You'll definitely want to witness the Ford GT Track Takeovers too.

We are happy to welcome back our friends from Ford Motor Company. They are doing something new this year – Hot Laps in the new 2019 Shelby GT350 at the Gateway Classic Mustang Autocross Track! They've also brought two new Mustangs for you to check out – The Shelby GT500 and the new High Performance Package. Take a ride on the FREE Ford Shuttle from Gate 3 to the Expo Center to see their indoor new car display, test drive their new vehicles and get FREE ice cream and a t-shirt (while supplies last).

We are also very happy to have several Ford celebrities with us. Read all about them on page 9. Meet Mike Finnegan of Roadkill and Hot Rod Magazine on Saturday in Building Y!

A fun new activity is available for guest of all ages – rides on the world-famous Virginia Giant Monster Truck! We hope you take advantage of everything the event has to offer, share your great times on Facebook and, most of all, make some new friends along the way. Be sure to check in at the new Social Stops to collect the unique anniversary stickers too!

MIKE FINNEGAN

We are very pleased to have television celebrities, Ford engineers, racecar drivers, authors and more at the event this year. Be sure to read the schedule and take advantage of the opportunity to meet them and get autographs.

MIKE FINNEGAN

Mike Finnegan is staff editor for Hot Rod Magazine and co-host of MotorTrend's show, Roadkill. Roadkill is known for doing all the cool car guy and girl stuff we all would have fun doing. Along with Roadkill, he's also a boat racer, fabricator and hosts Finnegan's Garage on YouTube. Join Mike Finnegan on Saturday 9 - 11 AM and 2 - 4 PM for meet and greets and autographs in Building Y.

AL JONIEC

Al's passion for racing cars began at an early age. While racing a car sponsored by the dealership where he worked, his wins were noticed by Ford Motor Company. They selected him out of eight people in the nation to be fully sponsored by their racing program in the 1960s. He won multiple national championships and set racing records while continuing his passion to learn as much as he could about the industry. Even after Ford withdrew from racing in 1971, Al continued building engines and drag racing. Al will be joined by author Charlie Morris inside Building T along with a slew of Boss cars both old and new including his original 1969 Boss 429 Mustang Drag Car. See the schedule for autograph times.

JOHN CLOR

The current Ford Performance Enthusiast Communications Manager is no stranger to this event and the many clubs that are here. John will be hosting a Club Leader Meet and Greet on Friday and conducting a seminar called Ford Clubs in the Future on Saturday. Both of these will cover how Ford can help your club as well as give you a direct connection to them. The meet and greet and the seminar will also hit on Ford's all-new Ford Club Connect program. John is also our celebrity presenter of the Coolest Club award.

CHARLIE MORRIS

Charlie's two most recent books, Detroit Muscle and The Adventures of Al Joniec, Ford Drag Racer, address the Boss cars and engines (302, 351, & 429) in some detail. His previous book, How To Rebuild Big Block Ford Engines, is being re-issued with an entire chapter on the Boss 429. It includes information on never-before-seen experimental racing parts, developed by Mickey Thompson, along with current rebuild tips and parts sources. His first book, Total Performers, covers the drag racing accomplishments of the Boss engines and the 428 and 429 engines that powered many Mustangs. Visit Charlie at his seminars and in Building T where you can buy his new book.

TONY ALONSO AND SCOTT HOAG

Join Tony and Scott as they take a deep dive into the Mach 1's history in their book Engineer + Enthusiast = Excitement. They will host seminars and book signings and will be located in the Mach 1 50th Anniversary Tent on the Showfield throughout the event. There are two aspects of the book; one covers the Mach 1, the other spotlights the Bullitt. Books will also be available for sale, be sure to get yours signed by the authors.

DON FARR

Meet Donald Farr, Mustang aficionado and former editor of Mustang Monthly magazine. Don't miss your opportunity to buy a copy of his new book, Boss Mustang 50 Years, and have him sign it. Farr will be in Building T as part of the Boss display and hosting a seminar called "Boss Mustang 50 Years" on Saturday.

STEVE SAXTY

After a 30-year career in the car industry – starting out at Ford and encompassing Mazda, Porsche GB sales and then consulting for Rolls-Royce, Lotus, McLaren, Lexus, Toyota and GM, Steve has come full circle – back to Ford. His book, The Cars You Always Promised Yourself, is about the iconic RS cars, XRs, the Capri, and SVE cars that truly capture the imagination. It dives into the last 50 years highlighting the game-changers in Ford to what design has become today with the S550 Mustang, Focus RS, and Ford GT. Peek behind the scenes on how the icons were born. See prototypes and might-have-beens. Steve will give a sneak peek into his book during his seminars on Friday and Saturday and he'll be in Building Y throughout the event.

DAVID SNYDER

Visit artist David Snyder in Building T to see a display of his automotive artwork featuring products produced by Ford Motor Company. If the timing is right, you might get to see him in action.

JAKE JERRELL

Jake Jerrell is a judge for the Mustang Club of America (MCA). He is conducting a seminar that will explain the MCA's Occasional and Daily Driven Classes and what the judges look for. He'll also review all the different judging classes in the MCA and go over Concours judging.

May 31st - June 2nd 2019

By Lance Miller, Carlisle Events

We are excited to share this 2009 Matech Ford GT Prototype GT1 race car with you, as it has never been on display in the U.S. at any car show until now! It is one of only two prototype Matech Ford GT1 race cars in the world. It was built by Matech Competition which was a Swiss racing team.

This vehicle has racing history behind it as well. It was in select races during the FIA GT Championship Series in 2009 as a Prototype GT1. The car did exceptionally well in various races such as Oschersleben in East Germany, Adria International Raceway, Hungaroring in Hungary and wrapping up its efforts at Paul Ricard in France. The team used this vehicle along with its sister car that Marc VDS ran along its side to learn how to improve the cars. Matech decided to build entirely new GT1 race cars for their efforts.

In the Ford GT Tent (inside Gate 3) we have one of the two prototype cars along with the real deal GT1 race cars that raced at Le Mans.

The Matech team focused heavily on the aerodynamics for their new GT1 cars due to the prototype lacking in this area. In 2010 when Matech launched the new GT1 race car they nailed the aero thanks to Ford's factory support which allowed the team to test the new cars in their wind tunnel to concentrate on the most efficient and effective aerodynamics. The Ford factory support really helped Matech dial in their GT1 effort in order to get the best vehicle possible for their Le Mans efforts. The all-new GT1 Matech Ford GTs did extremely well throughout the 2010 to 2012 FIA GT1 World Championship Series. In fact, the #60 Ford GT that is on display next to the prototype lead much of the race at Le Mans before it was rear-ended from behind by an LMP2 car and was taken out of the race.

We hope you enjoy seeing these two amazing Ford GT GT1 cars. Take a lot of pictures, these opportunities don't come along often.

FEATURED VEHICLE DISPLAY: 40 YEARS OF THE FOXBODY & FOX PLATFORM

CELEBRATING THE FOX'S 40TH - BUILDING T

See 40 Years of the Fox Body in Building T and the Tent on Rows IH & II to see Fox platform versions of the Mustang, Thunderbird, Cougar, Zephyr, Continental, LTD, Capri, Granada, Fairmont, Mark VII, and Marquis.

The third-generation Mustang, commonly known as the "Fox Body" or "Fox," came to market in 1979 after its Fox platform brothers the Fairmont and the Zephyr came to market in 1978. Ford wanted something so different from the previous Mustang II design that it enlisted the help of Ford designer Jack Telnack to create this all-new Ford Mustang. Through the years many versions of this Mustang would come to fruition such as the Indy Pace Edition, the Cobra, the Spring and Summer editions and more. The Fox Body would end up being the longest running body style of the Mustang to date.

CELEBRATING MACH 1'S 50TH - BUILDING T

1969 was the benchmark year for the Ford Mustang when it came to performance variants and engine packages. There was the Boss 302 and 429 and the Shelby GT350 and GT500 Mustangs. Plus, new to the market came the Mustang Mach 1. The Mach 1 would serve its time in Ford showrooms from 1969 to 1978, quite a long lineage for a performance variant. Later in 2003 and 2004 the Mach 1 returned with Art Hyde and Scott Hoag at the helm of the new Edge Mach 1. See the displays in Building T and in the tent on Rows J & K.

FEATURED VEHICLE DISPLAY: 50 YEARS OF THE BOSS

CELEBRATING THE BOSS'S 50TH - BUILDING T

It's been 50 years, January 15, 1969 to be exact, since the first Boss rolled off the line ushering in a new era of Ford performance. The first one rolled out of Kar Kraft in Michigan as a 1969 Boss 429 Mustang. Over the next couple of years Ford set new standards in the muscle car movement not only with the Boss 429 but also the Boss 302 and Boss 351. Fast forward to 2012 and Ford revived the Boss 302 nameplate for two years as part of Ford's new "road runner" engine-equipped Mustangs along with a slew of other performance and aero add-ons. See our 50 Years of the Boss Display in both Building T and the Boss Tent beside Building T on Rows D & E.

FEATURED VEHICLE DISPLAY: 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ELIMINATOR

CELEBRATING THE ELIMINATOR'S 50TH

In 1969 the Eliminator performance package appeared on a Mercury Cougar. A 351 5.8 liter four-barrel Windsor V8 engine was standard, with the 390 four-barrel V8, the 428CJ and the Boss 302 available as options. The Eliminator also featured a blacked-out grille, special side stripes, front and rear spoilers, an optional Ram Air induction system, a full gauge package including tachometer, upgraded interior trim, high-back bucket seats, rally wheels, raised white letter tires and a performance-tuned suspension and handling package. In 1970 the four-barrel 351 Cleveland replaced the Windsor as the standard engine and many upgrades that were standard on the '69 were moved to the options list. See examples of both model years in Building T in our 50th Anniversary of the Eliminator display.

By Mike Garland, Carlisle Events

In 2017 Patch Hurty, then a five year old boy, found a Ford emblem along his street in Connecticut. Already a car kid, Patch was giddy with his find and since car brands were already part of his vocabulary, he knew what he had and wanted more.

Wandering streets and combing through junkyards didn't seem like the best (or safest) option to further Patch's goals, so he and his family (mom Lindsay and dad Blaine) devised a plan. They decided to reach out to major automakers via "snail mail" to find more emblems/ornaments.

It all started with a pitch that went something like this: "My name is Patch Hurty and I'm five. I love cars, I love watching them drive by my house. One time a badge fell off one and I really liked that. I like car badges and want to collect more. Could you send me one please?" Patch even included a coin from his piggy bank and a photo of him standing in front of that brand's car. He also signed each letter himself.

More than 50 letters were mailed to Ford, General Motors, Tesla, BMW ... even companies that don't exist anymore, like Saturn. The thing with standard mail is that: a) you must trust that it actually gets there; and b) wait and hope for any kind of response. Wait they did and the responses started coming.

Goodies arrived from Volvo (grille badge, frisbee), Jeep (metal sign, pen, keychain), Bentley (center cap from a wheel), BMW (a good as new emblem) and more. Lincoln, Tesla, Bugatti, Honda and Ford had some fun with Patch too. Even companies that don't sell cars anymore did a little something for him. Suzuki hasn't sold a car since 2014, but still sent stickers and a key ring, while Isuzu, who has gone carless since 2008 but does sell commercial trucks, sent some Hot Wheels of their brand. Lincoln sent an original pencil sketch of a Continental, while Ford brought the family to their world headquarters to meet with Henry Ford, III and present him with his own toy mustang.

There was also a media blitz from local, regional and national outlets. On-air and online, the Patch Hurty story was everywhere and it all started with a well-penned piece by writer Ezra Dyer of Popular Mechanics.

The type of responses noted above, including the special treatment from Ford, makes Patch's appearance here this weekend all the more special. Not only was it the first badge he found, it's the brand of car he wants when he gets older. On Saturday we will honor his family with a special proclamation from Carlisle Mayor Tim Scott, and the family will not only visit with the brass from Ford once more, they'll be involved in the Downtown Carlisle Parade and Street Party, too.

"Carlisle Events has always been family friendly," noted company co-owner Lance Miller. "We love what we do, and our team is one big family too. We thrive on seeing future automotive generations getting excited about cars," continued Miller. "When I read the article in Popular Mechanics about Patch collecting automotive badges it really put a smile on my face. We need more children like Patch getting involved with the automotive hobby, we're excited having him join us!"

By the way, Monday is Patch's birthday. He turns 7!

Carlisle Events purchased the site of the former International Automotive Components (IAC) plant, located on Carlisle Springs Road, three blocks from the Carlisle Fairgrounds, in 2008.

The site has been cleared, plans have been made and approved, red tape has been cut, and infrastructure has begun to take shape despite delays due to higher than usual amounts of rainfall.

Homewood Suites broke ground during Spring Carlisle last month. Soon to follow will be a full-service restaurant, apartment buildings, car condos, townhouses and more!
